Comments about LSE student volunteers...

They are really great quality volunteers We also worked with the Islamic Society's GIVE project - these volunteers made a wonderful contribution to our Community Centre
Just wanted to say THANK YOU to all of them for volunteering with us! We hope to have more of them next term on our programmes.

Excellent, committed set of volunteers who have helped us to grow new and exciting roles, taking on roles which have not previously existed at our organisation and enabling us to begin our new volunteer plan and growth with confidence

We always had amazing volunteers from LSE. They contribute by bringing in new and innovative ideas, were reliable and produced high quality work.

The LSE student volunteers have been great to work with and added real value to our organisation.

NPS - Why they gave their score

The service you provide is excellent!

LSE has been a reliable source of high quality volunteers.

Reliable and communicative. Headed by an efficient and friendly team.

Excellent colleagues who always go above and beyond to provide support and expertise. LSE has always been very supportive of our organisation.

Good reputation and very professional staff that are always wanting to support charities and other small organisations

A good source of student volunteers

Their advice and support has been invaluable during the last 6 months, and I am told my predecessors found this a hugely useful service.

The LSE Volunteers Centre has been extremely helpful and reliable. They have worked with us to fit our needs and have helped us to think of new ways to advertise our volunteer roles.

We are happy with how approachable the LSE Volunteer Centre is, in particular with regards to spreading the word to other students about our opportunities. We really enjoyed being at the Charity Tuesday stand.

It has been a great experience working with the LSE. David and Beth in particular have been on hand to support and help us along the way and we have seen real benefits of working together to provide us with excellent volunteers. By far the best experience working with a university we have had and we hope to continue to grow the number of LSE student volunteers with us over the coming months and beyond.

I think that the volunteers that come from LSE are sensible, reliable and they genuinely interested in what they are here to do- I think some of this must come from the ethics that LSE gives its students along with the skills the students provide.

The LSE Volunteers Centre has always been fully supportive of our organisation and the work that we do, and provide an excellent service for recruiting enthusiastic and diligent volunteers.

The experience has been reliable and efficient and has enabled us to achieve goals that we could not have achieved without LSE VC's contribution and support

We have an excellent ongoing relationship with the LSE Volunteers Centre and I have found them consistently great to work with.

Highly motivated and passionate students and the volunteers centre is very easy to work with

Very friendly and helpful staff

Easy, clear, and great customer support. Our LSE volunteers have also been excellent.

The LSE Volunteers Centre is always very responsive and helpful

I believe that LSE is a great place to recruit volunteers
